1. The purpose of this policy is to ensure that employment-related decisions concerning existing or potential City employees are free from any real or perceived improper influence based on family relationships, and to maintain public confidence in the integrity of the City's hiring and employment practices.
2. This policy applies to elected officials and all persons employed by the City, whether on a full-time, part-time, seasonal or casual basis.
3. For the purposes of this policy, immediate family member means a parent, child, spouse, or same-sex partner, as these terms are defined in the Municipal Conflict of Interest Act.
4. It is the City's policy to select the most qualified candidates for vacant positions, while maximizing the opportunity for internal promotions.
5. All vacant positions shall be posted internally, either prior to or at the same time as external advertising, subject to the provisions of the relevant collective agreements.
6. It is the City's policy to make decisions on hiring, promotion, and other human resource issues based on merit. This includes a person's qualifications, ability and performance.
7. Immediate family members of Council members, the Chief Administrative Officer, and Department Heads shall not be employed by the City.
8. Immediate family members of other employees shall not be employed by the City where such employment would involve a direct or indirect reporting relationship to the relative.
9. On the recommendation of the Chief Administrative Officer, City Council is authorized to grant written waivers from this policy in such cases where it would be in the best interests of the municipality to do so.

Policy	3	Succession Planning

The purpose of this policy is to provide the framework for career development and advancement at the City of Orillia.

Succession planning is comprised of the following elements:

- Identification of High Performing Employees;
- Core Competencies;
- Training and Development;
- Memberships;
- Action Plan.

Identification of High Performing Employees

For succession planning purposes, Department Heads will identify high performing employees in their areas and meet with such employees to determine career aspirations.

Core Competencies

A detailed list of each employee's core competencies must be maintained through the corporate Human Resources Information System (HRIS) in order to determine individual skill profiles for job openings at the City. These core competencies would include education, licenses, certifications, training, etc. All Departments should forward any core competencies they wish to maintain on record to Human Resources.

Training and Development

Training and development requirements need to be identified to enhance the skills of employees who have been assessed as high performers in order to ensure they are competent if a vacancy does arise. These training requirements are to be budgeted through the individual department's operational budget each year.

Memberships

Memberships in professional associations in the employee's field of expertise offer a great networking and information exchange opportunity. Appropriate memberships approved for employees are to be budgeted through the individual department's operational budget.

Action Plan

An action plan should be formalized indicating the areas that need to be addressed, with timeframes attached, in order to ensure the employee is competent and ready to fill a possible vacancy. All such action plans should be filed with Human Resources.

Policy	4	Criminal Record Checks

PURPOSE

A Criminal Record Check (CRC) is a verification measure designed to confirm that employees of the City of Orillia do not have a criminal history, which could make them unsuitable for certain positions. This measure assists the City in attempting to ensure the health and safety of its customers, employees, and resources. Particular attention is provided to those employees having direct contact with children or vulnerable adults. A Vulnerable Sector Check (VSC) is a more thorough level of a CRC. A VSC is used to determine possible existence of sexual offences.

This policy does not replace operational procedures already in existence.

SCOPE

This policy shall apply to all new permanent full-time, permanent part-time, temporary contract employees, and volunteers of the City of Orillia, for the positions indicated below.

Applicants in all Departments will be required to provide a current (within 6 months of date of issue), acceptable prior to commencement of employment.

Applicants for the following positions will be required to provide a current CRC and a VSC at the time of written employment offer:

- Arena Workers
- Concession Stand workers
- Fire Department employees, including Volunteers
- Lifeguards
- Municipal Law Enforcement Officers
- Opera House employees
- Park/Facility Operators
- Recreation and Youth Services camp staff
- Persons contracted to offer recreational programs in the Recreation brochure
- Stephen Leacock Museum employees
- Youth Centre employees
- Any other position that works with or around children and the elderly.

PROCEDURE

1. Any job postings for positions that require the CRC and VSC will contain the statement: "An acceptable CRC/VSC is required for this position at the incumbent's expense, prior to employment commencement date."
2. Any costs incurred relating to the application to obtain a CRC/VSC will be the responsibility of the prospective employee/volunteer.

3. At the time the offer of employment is made, the prospective employee/volunteer is required to obtain a CRC/VSC from a police force detachment.
4. All CRC/VSC will be treated as confidential and personal information under the authority of the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.
5. The prospective/current employee/volunteer is responsible to provide the original CRC/VSC document to the Human Resources Department immediately after it is obtained. If the check will take longer than two weeks to be completed, it is the responsibility of the prospective employee/volunteer to provide official documentation from the appropriate police force, i.e. proof of purchase of required check, and the employment commencement date will be adjusted accordingly.
6. If a prospective/current employee/volunteer has criminal convictions for which a pardon has not been granted, outstanding/pending criminal charges, probations, prohibitions, or other judicial orders in effect, it is at the discretion of the Director of Human Resources, in consultation with the appropriate Department Head and the Chief Administrative Officer, to determine if the prospective/current employee will be employed with the City based on the results of the check.
7. A criminal conviction for which a pardon has not been granted, outstanding criminal charges, probations, prohibitions, or other judicial orders in effect do not automatically exclude a prospective employee from employment with the City.
8. The following extenuating circumstances may be considered when a CRC/VSC reveals a criminal conviction, charge, probation, prohibition, or other judicial orders in effect:
  - a) The specific duties and responsibilities of the position in question.
  - b) The potential risk posed to the City's elected officials, employees, residents, volunteers, property/equipment, or the public it serves.
  - c) The period of time since the criminal conviction(s).
9. A written offer of employment is conditional upon the City's acceptance of a submitted, original CRC/VSC. Employment will not commence until the appropriate check(s) have been received and determined acceptable.

Sub-Section	4	Performance Management Programs
Policy	1	Adoption Of

1. Purpose of Guide

This guide has been prepared to assist you in understanding the basic concepts of the Performance Management Program. If you have any questions, please consult your supervisor, department head, the Director of Human Resources, or the Chief Administrative Officer (CAO).

2. What is the Performance Management Program?

Being part of an organization means more than just working for it. It also means having the assurance that one's contribution is important and is valued. Every employee has the right to have that assurance, and with that right comes the responsibility to contribute to the best of his/her ability.

The Performance Management Program is the process by which the Corporation evaluates employee job performance to help support the ongoing growth of each employee's contribution within his/her job, the professional growth of the employee, and the growth of the Corporation.

3. How does the Program Work?

The Program consists of the following steps:

- Clarification of duties, responsibilities, and expectations for each position.
- Establishment of key assessment factors and performance goals.
- Ongoing performance monitoring and feedback.
- Annual performance appraisal.
- Rewards.

4. Step One – Clarify Jobs

It is important that each employee and his/her supervisor know what the duties, responsibilities, and functions are for the employee's position. The summary of the major duties and responsibilities should be reflected on Page 1 of the Annual Performance Appraisal Form (Appendix A).

CITY OF ORILLIA POLICY MANUAL

Part	5	Human Resources	5.1.4.1.
Section	1	Employment
Sub-Section	4	Performance Management Programs
Policy	1	Adoption Of

5. Step Two: a) Key Assessment Factors

At the annual performance appraisal meeting, the key assessment factors for a position should be identified by the supervisor in consultation with the employee and should be approved by the department head. Because of the diversity of jobs in the Corporation, it is not expected that all the assessment factors listed will necessarily be applicable to every position. Similarly, space has been provided to add assessment factors which the supervisor and the employee agree are applicable to that specific position.

At the annual performance appraisal meeting, the employee will be rated on how he/she has performed with respect to each factor.

6. Step Two: b) Performance Goals

At the annual performance appraisal meeting, the major goals and objectives for the ensuing twelve month period will be established. These should be continually reviewed during the year and revised as appropriate.

Every goals should be “SMART”:

- Specific;
- Measurable;
- Achievable;
- Realistic;
- Time-framed;

Some goals will be numerically measurable, e.g. “reduce department’s absenteeism rate to ____% by December 31, ____”. Every performance goal and objective, however, should be stated in such a way that the employee’s success in achieving it can be effectively measured, e.g., instead of saying “improve time management skills”, the goal would be stated as “take a course on time management by November 30, 199_ and reduce to 0 by January 31, ____ the incidence of missed deadlines.”

Supervisors and employees are encouraged to develop a mix of goals which include personal objectives (i.e. upgrading of skills or elimination of errors) as well as departmental objectives (i.e. completion of specific projects).

During the year the employee and the supervisor should regularly review progress towards meeting these objectives and record when objectives are achieved. At the next year's annual performance appraisal meeting, the employee's success in meeting the established objectives will be rated.

Sub-Section	4	Performance Management Programs
Policy	1	Adoption Of

7. Step Three: Ongoing Performance Monitoring and Feedback

One risk in establishing a formal annual performance appraisal is that there is a temptation to leave everything for discussion at the yearly meeting. This temptation must be avoided. The obligation for continuous conversation throughout the year between employee and supervisor rests with each equally. In addition to speaking to employees promptly if their performance does not come up to expectations, supervisors should also work hard "to catch employees doing things right", a Dr. Blanchard puts it in "The One Minute Manager". Building up a record of acknowledging positives with someone helps smooth the way when some constructive criticism is in order.

Equally, the onus is on the employee to ensure that issues do not sit festering until the annual appraisal meeting. If the employee is confused or unhappy about any aspect of his/her job, ranging from lack of clarity about priorities to unrealistic deadlines, the employee should raise the issue promptly with the supervisor and agree on a mutual resolution.

8. Step Four: Annual Performance Appraisal

In order to avoid the busy year-end and budget preparation season, the annual performance appraisal meeting should be conducted in late spring/early summer. This will also enable co-ordination with the compensation review/merit progression process for management staff which occurs on July 1 each year.

Prior to the meeting, the employee should submit to the supervisor a self-appraisal using the appraisal form in Appendix A. The employee should evaluate how he/she has fared relative to the key assessment factors and performance objectives established a year ago and should suggest performance goals for the year ahead. The supervisor should give consideration to the employee's self-appraisal when completing the official performance appraisal form.

During the meeting, the employee and the supervisor should discuss past performance, and review in particular any areas where their respective assessments do not coincide. Appendix B sets out in more detail an explanation of the rating scale to be used in rating the key assessment factors and in establishing the overall rating. They should then focus on the future by establishing the performance objectives for the next period and discussing any developmental/training needs that would assist the employee's growth.

The supervisor and the employee should each sign the appraisal form after writing their comments. Any comments by the Department Head should also be shown to the employee and initialed. The completed form is to be forwarded to the CAO for his information, then placed on the employee's personnel file.

9. Step Five: The Reward System

Before a Performance Management Program can incorporate a reward component in the form of performance-based compensation, there must be widespread trust in the objectivity and integrity of the system. This trust can only be developed through experience with the system.

At the outset, therefore, there will only be two reward options incorporated in the Program:

1. For those employees who have not reached their job rate, i.e. the top of their range, an annual performance review rating of satisfactory or better will result in the employee progressing to the next step on the range. Such employees who receive an outstanding rating, will be eligible for consideration for accelerated progression by moving up two steps.
2. Employees who receive a very good or outstanding rating will be eligible for paid days off. The details of this aspect of the program—will be developed by the Management Team prior to the first review period in mid-1999.

After the Program has been in place for two to three years, consultations will take place to determine whether additional performance-based compensation components should be considered.

10. Implementation

The implementation will commence upon approval of the Program-by City Council. The implementation phase will cover the period from Council approval until July 1999 and will focus exclusively on the future. The first review of past performance will occur in late spring/early summer of 1999.

Initially the Program will apply to management staff only. Using the lessons learned from this group, it is the ultimate intention to extend the Performance Management Program to all Corporation employees in consultation with the various bargaining units.

Under the Council-approved Performance Management Program, Council in Closed Session shall be responsible for the CAO's performance review; the CAO shall be responsible for Department Heads' performance reviews; and the Department Heads shall be responsible for their employee's performance reviews.

PURPOSE

To ensure that progressive discipline methods are clear to all City of Orillia employees and applied consistently and fairly. The policy is aimed to educate an employee regarding when they have failed to perform his or her duties in a responsible manner or have displayed inappropriate behaviour.

SCOPE

This policy applies to all full-time employees of the Corporation of the City of Orillia (City). However, nothing within this document supersedes any provision between the City and its bargaining units as set out within the applicable collective agreements.

DEFINITIONS

Minor Incident

Minor incidents include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Recurring tardiness.
2. Overstaying breaks or lunch periods.
3. Disrespectful behaviour.
4. Job performance issues that are not corrected upon direction.

1. Continued minor violations over a three month period.
2. Serious safety violations, such as intentionally causing a dangerous situation.
3. In-excused absence (unauthorized).

Counselling

Counselling is not disciplinary action. Counselling is an effective tool to avoid potential discipline and should be used to provide the employee with guidance, advice, and instruction regarding performance and behaviour issues. While counselling is encouraged, it is not required prior to imposing disciplinary action.

PROCEDURE

When a disciplinary action is warranted, the following is applied in a progressive manner:

- Step 1: Verbal Documented Warning
- Step 2: Written Warning
- Step 3: Suspension Without Pay
- Step 4: Termination

The sequence in which the discipline occurs will vary depending upon the severity of the offence. Depending upon the severity of the offence, and its history, termination of employment for the first violation of a corporate policy and/or practice could occur.

The discipline authority for warnings lies with the employee's immediate supervisor in consultation with the Director of the Department. The authority for termination is determined by the Director of the Department in consultation with the Director of Human Resources and the City Manager.

Disciplinary Steps in the Performance and Behaviour Improvement Process:

Step 1: Verbal Documented Warning

A verbal documented warning is used for a Minor Incident. It is serious enough to record the fact that the matter was formally discussed with the employee, and may be used as the basis for more serious future discipline. A copy of the verbal documented warning shall be placed in the employee's personnel file.

Step 2: Written Warning

A written warning is used for a single incident, which is serious enough to require that it be documented in writing, and as a next step for a Minor Incident (continued or additional) following a verbal warning. A copy of the written warning shall be placed in the employee's personnel file.

Step 3: Suspension Without Pay

Used for a Serious Incident and for continued or subsequent Minor Incidents. This could eventually lead to the termination of employment if the problem continues. A written notice of suspension is provided to the employee and a copy shall be placed in the employee's personnel file.

The suspension shall be served on a date as indicated by the Director of the Department.

Step 4: Termination of Employment

An employee will be terminated for certain Major Incidents, which would make their continued employment impractical. An employee may be terminated for Minor Incidents or Serious Incidents which have not been corrected as a result of progressive discipline. Depending on the situation, an employee may be terminated without any prior discipline having been imposed.

City employees appreciate that they have to carry out their responsibilities in such a way as to avoid any conflict of interest, and to avoid the perception that their actions are motivated by anything other than fairness and objectivity. This policy establishes various guidelines that are designed to assist City employees in determining whether or not certain behaviours or actions might be perceived as compromising this duty to act impartially. When in doubt, employees are encouraged to discuss the situation with their supervisor and/or their Department Head.

Gifts and Entertainment

Employees are expected to make decisions based on an impartial assessment of each situation, free from the influence of gifts and favours. The City must avoid both the fact and the appearance of impropriety with the organizations or individuals with which it deals.

Employees may accept entertainment in accordance with accepted business practice, provided it does not place them in a position where they are under obligation to any person who might benefit from special consideration on their part.

Gifts or hospitality should not be accepted from any person or corporation having dealings with the City, if it could reasonably be construed that the gift/hospitality is being offered in anticipation or in recognition of special consideration by the City.

Use of Municipal Property

Employees should only use the City's property, equipment, supplies or services of consequence, including computer software and other intellectual property, for activities associated with the discharge of their official duties, unless authorization for other use has been granted by the Department Head.

Political Activity

During municipal elections, employees should ensure that any involvement in a candidate's campaign does not adversely affect their role as employees of the City. The higher the employee's position in the municipal hierarchy, the more likely it is that involvement in a municipal election campaign would be considered to be incompatible with the individual's role as a municipal employee.

Personal Business Activity

Employees should not engage in personal business activities that would either interfere with the impartial discharge of their official duties, or influence their judgement, or otherwise adversely impact their role as City employees. Confidential or insider information acquired through employment must not be used in an employee's personal business. Employees should not participate in business activities that either compete with services provided by the City or provide goods or services to the City. Employees should refrain from participating in business activities which are regulated by the City or otherwise involve the obtaining of municipal approvals.

The onus is on the employee to avoid either the fact or the appearance of a conflict of interest arising from personal business activities.

Even when employees are satisfied that a personal business activity is appropriate, they are encouraged to disclose the nature of the activity or business interest in writing to their Department Head.

Policy	4	COVID-19 Prevention Policy

The City of Orillia (the City) has an obligation under Provincial legislation to take all necessary precautions to protect the health and safety of its workforce and is committed to providing professional service to the community and to building trust and confidence in local government.

To help reduce the risk of COVID-19 transmission, this COVID-19 prevention policy is an important measure that complements other workplace health and safety measures in place including daily health screening, mandatory masking, physical distancing, hand hygiene and enhanced cleaning.

This policy is in conjunction with public health guidance and supports the direction that vaccines provide a high level of protection against COVID-19 and related variants. Having both doses of the COVID-19 vaccine is the best defense against the virus, including the Delta variant.

The City is demonstrating its commitment to promoting vaccinations to ensure the health and safety of all employees of its workforce and the broader community.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to outline the City's requirement with regard to COVID-19 vaccination and provide direction to employees pertaining to the requirement to receive the COVID-19 vaccination, provide proof of vaccination or a bona fide exemption and conditions for attending work without vaccination.

SCOPE

This policy applies to all employees of the City, including full-time, part-time, Council members, contract, casual, volunteers, students and Board members.

New employees will be subject to this policy as a condition of their employment contract with the City.

This policy requires employees to be fully vaccinated from the COVID-19 virus, unless otherwise provided in this policy, and complete any subsequent doses. Employees are required to provide acceptable proof of vaccination.

Vaccination requirements are subject to bona fide medical and human rights exceptions. As well, unique medical exemptions will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis and would be subject to the City's accommodation process.

The City also reserves the right to amend the scope of this policy as needed, with minimal notice, to meet changing provincial or federal requirements.

Policy	5	Employees Disconnecting From Work

PURPOSE

The health and wellbeing of City employees is of the utmost importance and the City encourages and supports employees to prioritize their own wellbeing. Disconnecting from work is vital for a person's wellbeing as well as sustaining an appropriate work-life balance.

The City recognizes that every employee has the right to, and should, disconnect from work outside of their normal working hours unless there is an emergency or agreement to do so in such incidents as designated and compensated for being on standby or on-call or as included in an employee's job description.

The City of Orillia (the City) has an obligation under Provincial legislation (Bill 27) as an employer that employs 25 or more employees to provide a written policy addressing the matter of disconnecting from work.

SCOPE

This policy applies to all employees of the City, including full-time, part-time, contract, casual, and students, although it is primarily intended for employees who can remain connected to the workplace outside their regular hours of work because of their use and/or access to their personal and/or City-issued technology, including through remote work/hybrid work arrangements.

DEFINITIONS

Disconnecting From Work

Not engaging in work-related communications, including emails, telephone calls, video calls or the sending or reviewing of other messages, so as to be free from the performance of work outside the employer's normal working hours.

Hours of Work

Includes core hours of work for a Department/Division based on operational requirements and which may include evening and weekend shifts.

Includes scheduled on-call and standby hours, as outlined in collective agreements and includes alternative hours of work as agreed to by an employee and their Manager/Supervisor.

Emergency

Unforeseen Circumstance(s)

An unforeseeable incident or occurrence that unless addressed can reasonably lead to an adverse impact on the City's services, programs and /or impacts the health and safety of employees or the community.

Work

Executing employment duties and/or responsibilities including but not limited to engaging in work-related communications, including telephone calls, text messages, emails, and video calls.

PROCEDURE

Employees have the right to disconnect from work outside of their regular hours of work. This applies to employees working core hours or alternative hours. Should an employee have concerns surrounding their working time or an inability to disconnect from work, it is important to bring this to the attention of their Manager/Supervisor to resolve any concerns.

Managers/Supervisors will first contact employees who are on-call and/or on standby for emergencies, unforeseen circumstances and/or operational requirements, wherever possible, as outlined in the applicable collective agreements.

Employees may need to be occasionally contacted outside of their hours of work if an emergency or an unforeseeable circumstance arises, and/or when operational requirements arise. This contact will be made through communication methods established between the Manager/Supervisor and the employee.

Where a Manager/Supervisor communicates outside an employee's regular hours of work and no immediate response is required, employees should not feel they need to respond until their next scheduled hours of work. All employees should be mindful when sending work-related emails, texts, and telephone calls recognizing an employee's regular hours of work.

There may be situations where employees voluntarily wish to communicate with another employee for work-related purposes outside of their normal working hours and this policy would not apply in those situations.
